ALUMNI NEWS / BRYAN COLLEGE / DAYTON, TENNESSEE

KENNETH HANNA ELECTED

Kenneth G. Hanna '57, fifth president of Bryan College.

Alumni were notified of Dr. Mercer's death, which occurred Sunday, May 4, by first class mail on Tuesday, May 7. The following article appeared on the editorial page of the Chattanooga Times on Tuesday morning. It was written by Michael Loftin, Times Editor and a 1968 graduate of Bryan.

Dr. Ted Mercer

Reprinted with permission from The Chattanooga Times.

There is a special poignancy in the death Sunday of Dr. Ted Mercer, president of Bryan College in nearby Dayton for the past 30 years. He had recently announced his retirement, to be effective at the end of this academic year, and so the college's commencement service this weekend would have been his last as president of the institution. The school's board of trustees last week announced Dr. Mercer's successor, Dr. Kenneth Hanna.

But while Dr. Mercer's death is a painful blow to Bryan's "community" of teachers, students, alumni and friends, it is overshadowed by his fine legacy of service to the school, by the enormous expansion there over the past three decades and, most of all, by the exuberance of his religious faith, one aspect of which was the promise of life after death.

When Dr. Mercer came to Bryan in 1956, the college was still struggling after more than 20 years. But under his leadership, student enrollment quadrupled, capital construction boomed and the college's endowment, educational quality and faculty improved dramatically. Typically, Dr. Mercer downplayed his role in all of this; he paid tribute instead to the vision of the board of trustees, to the quality of the faculty and the student body — and to the thousands of alumni and friends of the college who supported it financially.

Granted, no college can succeed without such support. But Dr. Mercer personified Bryan College, and he endeared himself to its community through such simple acts as a personal note or friendly telephone call to an alumnus or acquaintance, a photographic memory for details about former students, and a genuine, enthusiastic interest in matters relating to the college. His vision was not limited to Bryan alone. He read widely and was intensely interested in history, particularly the history of Rhea County, including the 1925 Scopes trial in Dayton that was the genesis of Bryan College.

A friend, calling with details about Dr. Mercer's death, alluded to a comparison involving the death of Moses, recorded in the Old Testament book of Deuteronomy, and the succession of Joshua. Dr. Mercer would have demurred at being compared to Moses but the analogy works nevertheless, for he led Bryan college effectively yet humbly through decades of progress before handing it over to a successor. His death is a shock to the college and to his wide circle of friends, but it's fitting, in a way, that it came during commencement week at the college. His death is, after all, merely the commencement of a better — eternal — life.

The year-long search has ended. On April 26th, after receiving the report of the Presidential Search Committee, which at one time had considered over twenty candidates, and on recommendation of the trustee Administration Committee, the Bryan College Board of Trustees elected alumnus Kenneth G. Hanna as Bryan's fifth President. Formal announcement of the board's decision came at the 53rd Commencement program which was held in Rudd Memorial Auditorium.

Dr. Hanna, who for the past six years has been Academic Dean and Vice-President at Moody Bible Institute, will officially assume his duties as chief executive officer at Bryan in July.

A brief look at his experiences as a Christian shows the Lord's leading in the life of Bryan's new president. When he was only seventeen, Ken Hanna, of Midale, Saskatchewan, Canada, dedicated his life to full-time service to his Lord while attending a summer Bible camp. The decision came just ten days after he had accepted Jesus Christ as his personal savior. At age twenty he wrote, "As I stand today longing for the time when I shall be able to go out in His work, the voice of God calls to me, 'ye are my ambassadors.' May it be true that I am dead and my life is hid, with Christ, in God."

Shortly afterward, Ken met Mary Underwood while they both were serving the Lord in a parachurch organization called "God's Invasion Army." In August of 1954, vowing to serve their Lord together, they were married. Just two weeks later Ken enrolled as a student at Bryan, where they arrived with everything they owned packed in a 1947 business coupe. Recently he wrote that "Bryan was the start of our home as well as our educational career." The Hannas' very first home was Trailerville, a residential area on campus for married students during the fifties and sixties at Bryan.

His Canadian high school education enabled Hanna to begin as a sophomore at Bryan. To meet school and family expenses, he worked as a cook and assistant manager in the Food Service Department. Three years later he received his B.A. in English. During his senior year he was class chaplain and president of the Pastor's Fellowship.

The Hannas planned to go through Dallas Seminary and then to teach Bible to young people in Canada. In six short years at Dallas, the plan was fulfilled. By 1963 Ken had earned the Th. M. in Hebrew and the Th. D. in Bible exposition, and had returned to his native Canada to take a position as registrar and instructor at Winnipeg Bible College. He also began serving at this time as Pastor of Elim Chapel, where former Bryan Bible professor Harris Gregg pastored during the early 1920's.

In 1966 Dr. Hanna was called to administration as president of Winnipeg Bible College. In the thirteen years he was president, Winnipeg's enrollment tripled, a new campus was purchased and occupied, and a seminary was added. The Hannas' tenure there was broken only by a year's sabbatical taken in 1973-74 to teach at Asian Theological Seminary in the Philippines, where Bryan Alumnus, Cary Perdue '56, was dean.

In 1979 Dr. Hanna accepted the call to Moody Bible Institute as Vice-President and Academic Dean, where he has been in charge of all the Institute's educational programs. While at Moody he also took time to write, study and preach God's Word in Bible conferences, in churches, and on Moody's radio network.

Over the years Dr. Hanna has often visited Bryan and expressed his appreciation for the school. In 1964 he wrote, "I count my years at Bryan as among the most important and influential in my life. Many of the foundational lessons that I learned were learned at Bryan." And on another occasion he said that he received more than just a degree: "It was at Bryan College that God gave to me a sense of direction and purpose in life."

Dallas Breakfast

50th ANNIVERSARY CLASS HONORED

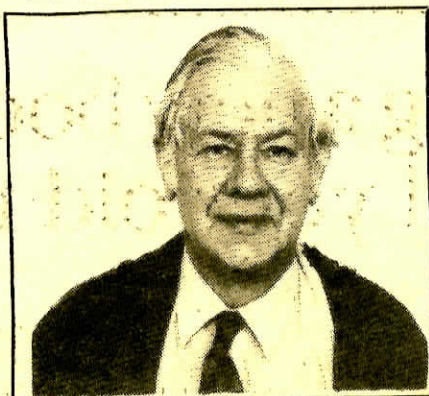

The two living graduates of Bryan's third Golden Anniversary class were honored at the 53rd annual commencement ceremonies. Because of distance from the campus and poor health neither honoree was able to attend, so they were both recognized in absentia on the commencement program.

Mr. Lloyd C. Wilson served in the army after his graduation from Bryan, taught one year in the Civilian Conservation Corps in Sevier County, Tennessee, then taught in the Hamilton county school system (Chattanooga) from 1946 to his retirement in 1974. He had teaching duties in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades during those 28 years.

Lloyd and his wife, Mable, will be celebrating 40 years of marriage on July 20 this summer. The Wilsons attend the Tyner Church of God near Chattanooga. He has been a faithful member of that denomination since his boyhood years in Soddy-Daisy, Tennessee.

Dr. William L. Wonderly majored in English at Bryan, then went on to earn his M.A. in Bible Education at Columbia Bible College in 1939, and his Ph. D. in linguistics at the University of Michigan in 1948. Bill and his wife, Dorothy, joined Wycliffe Bible translators in 1939 and continued their work with that organization until 1955 when they transferred to the American Bible Society, where they served until their retirement January 1, 1986. During his term of service with these translation groups Bill authored and co-authored many books and articles specializing in the fields of Bible translation and linguistics.

Bill Wonderly was chosen as the Alumni Association's very first Alumnus of the Year in 1958, the year this honor was begun. He also served his Alma Mater on Bryan's National Advisory Council from 1973-1981.

Dr. and Mrs. Wonderly reside in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where Bill continues to work on Bible translation and where they both attend the Episcopal Church.

In 1936 William Jennings Bryan University, as it was called then, graduated five seniors. The three deceased members of the class were Agnes DeRosset, Sam D. Hodges, and Mary McAllister.

Change At Bryan College

All alumni and friends of Bryan know by now that 1986 is a watershed year in the history of the college. But the transitional changes are only in the names of people involved in God's work here; there is no change in the purpose of the college which is to provide a quality Bible-based liberal arts education with a Christian world view. This remains the same.

Four presidents — George Guille, Malcolm Lockhart, Judson Rudd, and Ted Mercer — gave their lives in full commitment to Bryan's historic mission. And each of them exemplified Bryan's motto, "Christ Above All."

In his last speech to the faculty Dr. Mercer said, "while the purpose of Bryan College will not change, changing times call for changing methods and new leadership. The time has come for change at Bryan College so that God's work may go on here." Dr. Hanna, in his interview with the Board of Trustees said, "Our human methods should be written on a blackboard, not etched in stone."

Ken Hanna is familiar with Bryan College, its purpose and mission. He is a Bryan "product," having graduated, incidentally, at the end of Dr. Mercer's first year as president. He continued to maintain close ties with the college and with Mercer; especially since 1966 when Hanna became President of Winnipeg Bible College. Consequently, he has personally experienced Bryan's atmosphere and traditions.

Alumni may rest assured that the fundamental purpose of Bryan College, "to provide for the higher education of men and women under auspices distinctly Christian and spiritual," will remain the same as it was when the school was opened in 1930.

Alumni leaders at Bryan

God's leading has been most evident at Bryan this past year in choosing of our new president, Kenneth Hanna, and in directing the transition in leadership at all the top administration levels. The next three administrative positions at Bryan for next year are also filled by alumni of the college. Dr. Mayme Bedford '65 has been named interim Academic Dean. Mr. Stuart C. Meissner '56 continues as Director of College Advancement; and Mr. Paul H. Ardelean '55 will become Dean of Students.

Dr. Mercer always asked, "the best thing you can do for Bryan College is to pray for us." Please pray for these four alumni leaders at Bryan as you remember in prayer the Lord's work here. By God's grace, all alumni may rest assured that at Bryan "Christ Above All" will continue to be the guiding principle in the life of the college and in the lives of its leaders.

Alumni remember Mercer

6,500 students have attended Bryan, and Dr. Mercer was known on campus by 5,000 of them. He knew them all personally. They all respected him and they will always remember him. Here are some reasons why:

He showed us by his own life that any task can be done in a Christ-like spirit.

His prayers, always spontaneous, disclosed to us that was thrilled by God's majesty, sovereignty, and love; and that he was totally reliant upon his Lord for direction and help.

His public prayers brought all our spirits together as one in worship of our Lord, and taught us how to pray publicly.

I know that his personal prayers included each one of us, always bringing to God our personal problems as students and alumni.

He treated each one of us not merely as Bryan students or alumni but as unique persons created by God.

He always knew our names.

He dignified us.

His genuine gift of hospitality and his genuine love for all people, not just fellow-believers, were traits in Dr. Mercer that all Bryan's alumni will continue to emulate.

He objected to receiving any recognition for his work.

He gave the glory all to God.

A cassette tape and a copy of the program of Dr. Mercer's funeral may be obtained from the college by sending $5 to cover production costs and postage to:

Clouse Honored

Dr. Robert Clouse '54, professor of history at Indiana State University, is a recipient of that University's Research and Creativity Award for 1986. During ISU's 115th commencement ceremonies on May 10, he was honored for his scholarly excellence.

Dr. Clouse is an internationally published scholar whose works deal with contemporary Christian thought on ageless issues such as wealth, poverty and war, for example. In addition to his books, "The Meaning of the Millennium," "War: Four Christian Views," and "Wealth and Poverty: Four Christian Views," published by InterVarsity Press of Downers Grove, Illinois, and now translated into German, Chinese and Portuguese, Clouse also is the editor and a contributor to The Brethren Encyclopedia, a three-volume work. His research (with Dr. P.G. Aaron, ISU professor of educational and school psychology) challenging Sigmund Freud's psychohistory of Leonardo da Vinci, has been published in the Journal of Interdisciplinary History. They also have done a similar study on the dyslexia of President Woodrow Wilson.

A graduate of Bryan College and Grace Theological Seminary, Dr. Clouse earned the Master of Arts and a Ph. D. in history at the University of Iowa in 1960 and 1963, respectively. He joined the ISU faculty in 1963.

Gray Promoted

The appointment of Dan H. Gray '77 as President and Chief Executive Officer of Alexian Village of Tennessee in Signal Mountain, Tennessee, was announced recently. Dan will begin his transition to this position in Mid May and will assume full-time status on July 8.

Dan has been Assistant Administrator since December, 1983, at Charter House Retirement Community, a 289-apartment and 34-bed skilled nursing facility affiliated with Methodist Hospital in Rochester, Minnesota. He previously served as Administrator of Shell Point Nursing Pavilion in Fort Myers, Florida, after being promoted from Assistant Administrator of the multi-level retirement community with more than a thousand residents.

Dan holds a master's degree in Long Term Care Administration from North Texas State University in Denton, Texas, and a Certificate of Gerontology at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California. He has been active in the American Association of Homes for the Aging and the Minnesota Association of Homes for the Aging.

Alexian Village of Tennessee which opened in July, 1983, includes 126 apartments and a 124-bed health care center. An additional 65 apartments are under construction.

Alumni Directory to be Published

BRYAN COLLEGE is pleased to announce the publication of a comprehensive biographical reference volume which will be available for distribution in early April, 1987. The directory will list all known, living alumni alphabetically, geographically, and by class year.

The directory, our first since 1983, will include your full name, occupation, business and home addresses, and business and home telephone numbers.

In early September, 1986 alumni will receive a biographical update questionnaire to be completed and returned to the alumni directory publisher. Individuals wishing to reserve their personal copy will be given the opportunity to purchase either a hard bound or softbound edition. It is imperative to our project that you complete and return these forms as soon as you receive them.

The directory will be made available only to the alumni of BRYAN COLLEGE. The directory will tell you what your former classmates and old friends are doing, where they work and live, and how to contact them by phone or mail. The geographical index will tell you which alumni are located in your own area, and will be a useful aid in contacting former classmates when traveling.

The new directory will have a LIMITED PRINTING — only those directories ordered in advance will be printed. Watch your mail for your personalized biographical update and reservation form, which will be sent to you by our publisher, Carleton Graphics, P.O. Box 4427, South Bend, Indiana 46634.

Your participation in this program is vital to the success of this project. Upon receipt of your questionnaire, please complete your personal biographical form, fill out the order card, and return them in the enclosed business envelope.

Thank you in advance for your assistance and cooperation on this project.

Announcing a new book to renew all your old friendships.

The 1987 Alumni Directory

Our 1987 Alumni Directory, that will include all living alumni, will soon be in production. The book will list each person alphabetically, by class year and by current geographic location.

Each alum's home and business addresses and telephone numbers will also be recorded.

You'll be receiving a biographical information packet soon, so be sure to complete and return it promptly along with your order for a softbound or hardbound copy—and get back in touch with those old friends.

Class Notes

30's & 40's

Forrest (Rhody) '39 and Connie (Penick) '40 Ford moved last year to their retirement home in Ashland, Kentucky. Connie retired June 10, 1985, after 23 years of teaching. Three days later Rhody broke his right hip and was hospitalized 12 days in a Danville hospital for surgery and recovery. Then he preached his farewell sermon, had a communion service and retired after 41 years in the ministry. They moved in July to their own home across the court from their son Jerry. After six months of recuperation — from bed to wheel chair, to crutches, to walker, and to cane — Rhody got back on his own feet. Their year of retirement has been filled with family activities including children and grandchildren, their 43rd wedding anniversary celebration, and Rhody's supply preaching at the Catlett'sburg Presbyterian Church.

Mark '42 and Joan Levengood live opposite the new Provincial Hospital in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, and keep their home open to Christian nurses and staff. Part of their missionary work is the care and development of the Emmaus correspondence Bible courses in the Zulu language. Mark spoke recently at a meeting when six Indian believers were baptized in their city. Joan recently spoke at a Christian Women's Club at Durban and was also scheduled to speak five times at a ladies' retreat. The Levengood clan, including a married daughter and son, and a single son, is reported to be all well and rejoicing in God's goodness. The single son, Jim is in the South African army for two years and is thankful to have an office job in the capitol city of Pretoria so he doesn't have to go into the combat area.

Hazel (Waller) '43 and Orville Carlson are living in Maesai, Thailand, near the Burma border, as they seek ways to distribute to the Lisu people the 10,000 copies of the Lisu Concordance that arrived in Bangkok in December.

Neil A. Benfer x'43, a retired former oceanographer and earth sciences writer/editor who resides in Charlottesville, Virginia, recently visited Gordon Matheny x'43, a retired earth science teacher in Manchester, Connecticut.

Solon x'43 and Kathryn (Hirschy) x'43 Hoyt are enjoying the summer season in Argentina during the North American winter. Their ministry for Monday through Thursday includes holding Bible study meetings in Santa Rosa and Santa Isabel, and on weekends they are at their home in Rio Cuarto, spending time for study. Every two weeks they go to Tan-cacha for the Sunday evening service.

Dr. C. Sumner Wemp x'45 has completed twelve years as Vice President for Spiritual Affairs at Liberty University in Lynchburg, Virginia, where he works with Dr. Jerry Falwell. Two years ago Nelson Publishers published his book, The Guide To Practical Pastoring, which is already in its second printing. It has just been translated and published in the Romanian language. He has had the privilege of going to Romania five times for ministry and had plans to go again in March this year with a group of Liberty students.

Irma (O'Neil) Sions x'49 of Yakima, Washington, received a diagnosis more than a year ago of having multiple myeloma, which is cancer of the bone marrow. She has not worked for nearly a year and finds that she has more pain and is gradually becoming disabled. Her Christian friends have been attentive and she finds ways to be thankful, taking comfort in II Cor. 5:1, "...we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

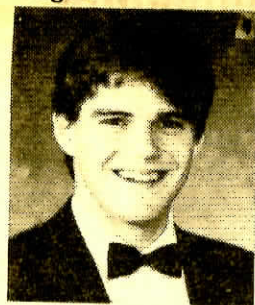

Paul '50 and Elaine (Kennard) '47 Syers are encouraged to see their young people in the Acarau church passing out tracts and witnessing on Sunday afternoons. In February they visited Mombaca, where they found they will replace a national pastor called to another church in Camocin. Their family news includes the wedding plans for Dorcas x'80 in May to Bobby Robinson, who plans to visit the mission field for Dorcas's first time since she left for college ten years ago.

50's Continued

Tom '54 and Ruth (Sutton) visited Bryan in January when Tom spoke in chapel. They were on their return trip from Brazil where they had accompanied Nancy Ruth Lieb x'77 on her flight to Brazil. The Taylors spent a week vacationing with Ed '49 and Jane (Sutton) '49 Lieb—a reunion for the "Sutton sisters" and an opportunity for the Taylors to get acquainted with the Brazil mission field.

Ruth Ann (Adams) Cone x'51 recently left her home in Winona Lake, Indiana, to go to Lyon, France, where she found a warm welcome, quite in contrast to her experience in 1954 when she and George were there for study on route to Africa.

Bob '52 and Evelyn sp.st. Yunker have been ministering for 13 years with both the Japanese and the English divisions of the Clovis Free Methodist Church in the Fresno, California, area, about 35 miles from their home in Madera. The church recently called a young Japanese as a full-time pastor, but Bob is still in charge of the Japanese division. Their present church is overcrowded, so they hope to build on their 2-acre plot to accommodate their growing congregation. Evelyn continues to teach a Japanese Bible Study in a farm home and is also the church secretary. The Yunkers are hoping to move closer to the church.

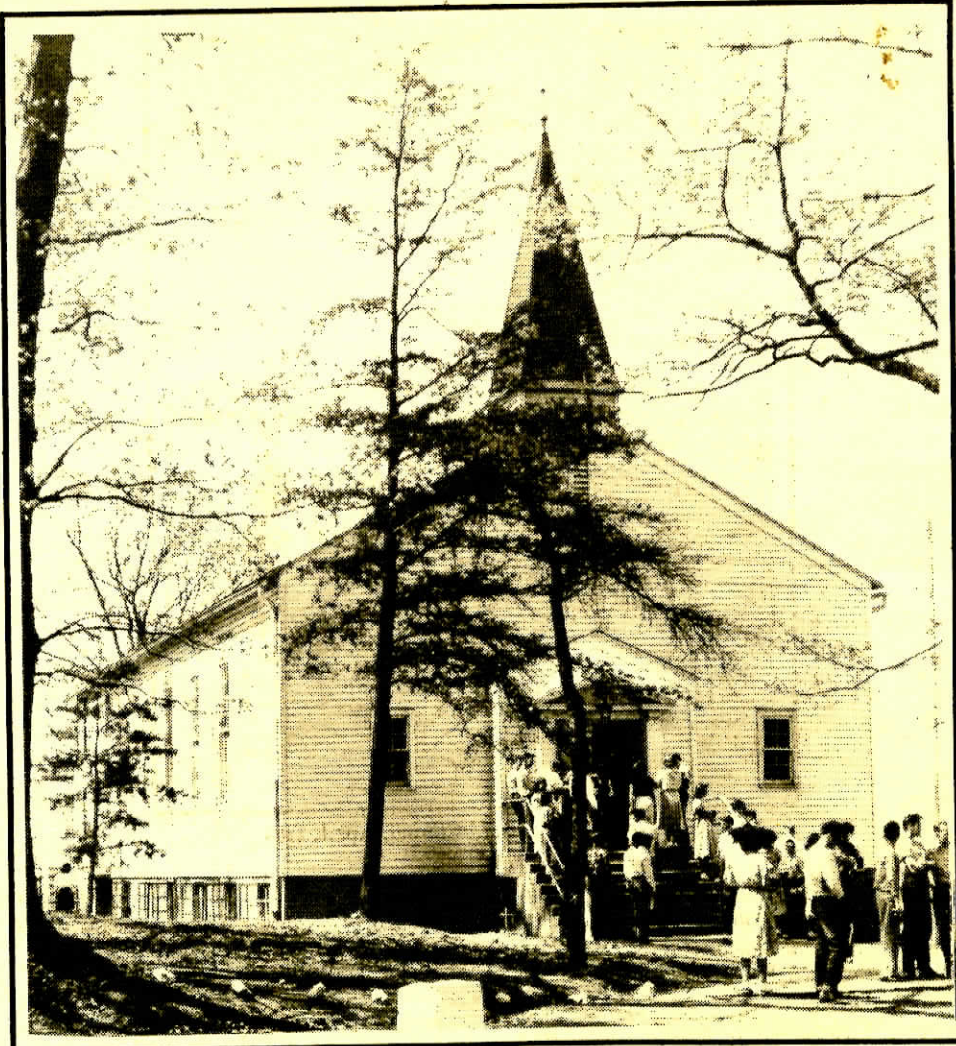

Clifford '52 and Ruth Hanham rejoice in the continued growth of the Spanish church which recently had over 100 in attendance. For Cliff this is the 24th year as a teacher at Miami Christian School, where he is responsible for 25 seniors in a total enrollment of 430. He has taught almost all of the 700 graduates of the school. Sherril '83, their daughter, directed the Christmas pageant at the school and teaches 4th grade. Ruth is teaching a Bible class "Woman to Woman," which meets twice each week and deals with husband and wife relationships.

Mildred Mosby x'53 keeps very busy in Chicago as she ministers to African (especially Nigerian) students in her affiliation with International Students, Inc. She shares the concerns of students who have problems such as a young Nigerian soon to be released from a mental health center and needs a work permit and job, or else return to Nigeria; a Nigerian girl who had trouble getting her money from Nigeria and has a serious allergy problem with no solution yet; the president of the African Fellowship who with his family has experienced unexpected financial difficulty; a desperate problem of a Nigerian student with Immigration, and other concerns for Bible studies and prayer fellowships.

George '55 and Norma Haberer rejoiced when 31 followed the Lord in baptism at the Kerowagi church in Papua New Guinea including several from other churches, and another baptism service is also planned for the Kundiawa church. They are encouraged to have the prospects of some missionaries returning and other new ones joining them for short-term service, while they say farewell to a pastor and his wife from New Jersey as they leave in June. They express concern about drugs that have been found in their area lately as well as alcoholic beverages, but "many are finding their spiritual and emotional needs met in Jesus Christ instead of drugs."

David '57 and Kay (Temple) '57 Henry have had a major change in the direction of their ministry by choosing to continue working with the Koyukon people of Alaska. They will continue their affiliation with Wycliffe Bible Translators but be on loan to Arctic Missions and work under their supervision to have a combined urban ministry in Fairbanks where there are more than 500 Koyukons and an out-reach to villages.

Malcolm Bradshaw '57 and his wife, Rhoda x'56, make Manila, Philippines, their home and headquarters for an extended ministry. Mac is an associate director for evangelism and leadership in the Asia Field Development Office of World Vision. He consults with ten field offices in Asia from the South Pacific to the Middle East (including Lebanon, Israel, and Egypt). The biggest challenge planned for 1986 is leading a team to open new field ministries, the main focus being Pakistan. In Rhoda's ministry with CRIBS, 175 abandoned or surrendered infants were aided in 1985, with 130 being placed for adoption in the Philippines, Australia, Europe, or the Students entering White Chapel, early 1950's.

U.S. A new program for young girls has been established as "New Beginnings," providing a home to rescue and rehabilitate them from the streets. The Bradshaws' daughter, Jessie, and her husband are acting as house parents for the year while they prepare to go to India as missionaries. Rhoda has also aided poor families by finding a market for women's handcrafts, including plans for a mail order outlet in the U.S. under the name Heartline Crafts, Inc.

Dr. Douglas and Lyrle (Cue) '57 Culver have moved from North Carolina to Coral Gables, Florida, where Doug is senior minister at the Granada Presbyterian Church. Doug recently participated in a seminar on Economics and Ethics held at Gardner-Webb College in Boiling Springs, North Carolina. He is the former president of the National Foundation for the Study of Religion and Economics and a recognized scholar of economics as related to religion.

Maxie F. Green x'58 was chosen Educator of the Year by the Chattanooga Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, a national organization for professional educators. Maxie is principal of Ganns Middle Valley School in Chattanooga.

Gary and Alice (Tobemann) '59 Fredricks found December taken up with Explo '85 in Nairobi, Kenya. Over 4,500 gathered from the 27th to the 31st for the Old Testament classes at the Nairobi International School of Theology.

60's

Wayne Kiser x'62 is the author of Getting More Out of Church, a 1986 publication of Victor books, Wheaton, Illinois. Writing from his experience as both pastor and layman, Wayne has provided thought-stimulating questions for personal reflection to help the believer take on a more positive attitude toward worship and to enjoy the Lord and the brothers and sisters in the faith. He and his wife, Ruth, are active in their local church in Glen Ellyn, Illinois, and own and operate a graphic and editorial service.

Dr. LeBron Bell x'63, a faculty member in health and physical education at Tennessee Technological University, is the fitness consultant of Operation Shapedown being offered as a six-day program during the summer. Held at the University's Tech Aqua facilities on Center Hill Lake, the Shapedown method of weight control concentrates on long-term results and good health by moderate exercise and good nutrition. Five summer sessions are planned from June until September.

Kent Lueb x'63 and his wife, Willina, and sons, Jonathan and Joel, live in Harshamp, Netherlands. Kent is pastor of a church there, where he conducts Bible studies weekly for youth and another for young couples and single parents, plus occasional studies with international students who speak English. He also meets weekly with three church elders for business, prayer, and study. Willina has a busy schedule of Bible studies and counselling in addition to family responsibilities.

Paul and Becky (Bollman) '63 Marcy recently built an addition on their home in Wheaton, Illinois, which improves their family living area and allows for renting space to four college students. Becky is pursuing a master's degree in educational ministries and is engaged in an internship program at their church, Wheaton Wesleyan. Paul continues to serve on the maintenance staff at Wheaton College.

Ron '64 and Diane (Peck) '64 Morren have been asked to return to Guatemala under Wycliffe Bible Translators to train literacy workers and Bible translators for tribal languages. Their hope is to return in August.

Joyce (Giles) Ealy '65 is teaching 6th grade at Walter Hill Elementary School in Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Janie Voss '65 continues teaching at Faith Academy in Manila, Philippines, while caring for her two adopted daughters, Kim, grade 6, and Andrea, grade 1. Her twenty second-graders include nine nationalities, many of whom are missionary children.

Ron '68 and Inga (Stenberg) '68 Neely plan to leave Sweden in August for furlough to visit friends and relatives in the U.S. They will be accompanied by their four children pictured above—Tina, 15; Erik, 13; Maria, 9; and Lars, 6. They anticipate a visit to Bryan when they visit a sponsoring church, Grandview Christian Fellowship Church, pastored by Randy Bell '70. The Neelys serve under Evangelical Baptist Mission.

Bill and Dee (Gilmore) x'68 Reed, Jr. live with their four children in Lake Park, Florida. Bill is president of the Tri City Woodworks, Inc., and both are active at Palm Bible Chapel in North Palm Beach.

Don Hershner x'68 of Hamilton, Ohio, recently visited Bryan campus. He works for the maintenance department of the city of Hamilton and is a Sunday school teacher in a Presbyterian church. He and his wife, Doris, have three children—Donna, 18; Brian, 10; and Jennifer, 9.

Harvey Senter x'68 is developing several D'Lites franchises in the Raleigh, North Carolina, area, as an outgrowth of his real estate business. His home is in Sumter, South Carolina.

In the accompanying picture are shown the children of James '69 (deceased) and Barbara (McCormack) '69 Comstock, who live in Mansfield, Ohio. They are Chris, 12; Elizabeth, 8; and David, 6. Barbara has been keeping other children in her home until David goes to school. She is thankful for her good children and for the Lord's provision for their needs, but she acknowledged an emptiness and void that she constantly gives to the Lord.

Tom '70 and Ann (Burkett) '69 have completed four and a half years in Germany under Bible Christian Union and are anticipating a furlough from August to December 1986. Tom has been preaching, teaching, and coordinating the activities of a church-planting team. For the past two years he has served on BCU's German Advisory Field Council. Ann's main responsibilities have been as treasurer for BCU-Germany and as manager of "Hotel Keefer." They have seen the beginnings of a church with a small group of believers meeting on Sunday morning since May 1985. They are looking forward to BCU's biennial conference on May 12-20 in Holland with Dr. Robertson McQuilkin as guest speaker.

John and Joyce (Buice) x'70 Larrabee with their teenage children, Christi and John, have arrived in Manaus, Brazil, to serve at the school for missionaries' children at Puraquequara under New Tribes Mission. They took over the responsibility for the dining room to feed 90 people three times a day as they replaced a lady who had become very ill. John also directed the elementary Christmas program and the high school choir in two concerts in Manaus.

Jack '71 and Esther (Ockers) x'72 Lilley shared the refreshing spiritual ministry and fellowship of the Venezuela TEAM Annual Conference with Dr. Don Gerig, pastor of Calvary Memorial Church in Oak Park, Illinois, as speaker. Jack was scheduled to speak in February at the Spiritual Emphasis Week of the Bible Institute in San Cristobal, plus giving preaching workshop to the students. At the same time Esther taught VBS to 3rd and 4th graders sharing in a missionary conference.

Dr. J. Harold Harris '72 was called on January 5 as pastor of the Woodbury Road Baptist Church in Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Gene x '74 and Lynn (Puffer) '73 Jordan returned to Ecuador on February 14 with their daughters, Kimberly, 6, and Kelley, 4, to resume ministry under Missionary Aviation Fellowship after their year's furlough. Gene is now classified as Chief Pilot in his area.

Janet Hardie '75 returned to Bogota, Colombia, in January after a busy furlough at her home in Portersville, Pennsylvania, where she took classes at Slippery Rock University three days a week and enjoyed being with her family at Christmas. This year she is writing curriculum guidelines for grades 3-6.

Terri (Rich) '75 and Rick Herr returned to Columbia last August after their June wedding. Terri is continuing her teaching at Lomalinda and Rick works in the radio department. They expect to return to Waxhaw, North Carolina, this summer for Rick to get more training in radio repair and electronics.

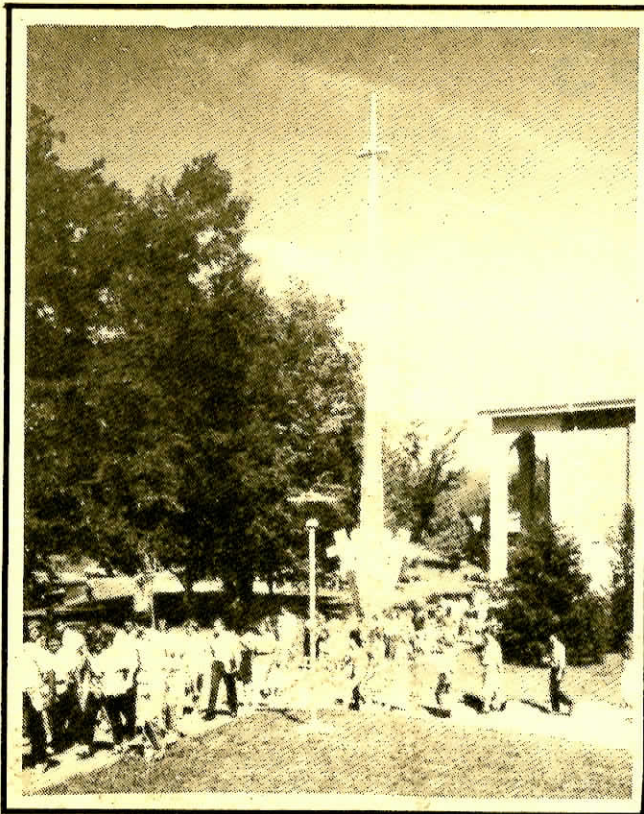

Fred '74 and Grace (Smith) '75 Ely are pictured with their family including Cindy, 7, Tim, 5, and Cheryl Ann, 6 months in April. They enjoy fellowship with believers at Calvary Evangelical Free Church, where Fred has a ministry with the Evangelism Explosion Team. Grace is enjoying a rest from Sunday school teaching this year. Both sets of grandparents are overseas missionaries - Elys in Ethiopia and Smiths in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Sandy (Neumann) '75 and Nard Puygao with their sons, Steven and PJ were not able to return to the Philippines in January because of Sandy's health problems. Some parasites were found and eliminated with medication, but Sandy still has poor blood circulation. They plan to take a two-year furlough to give time to get the children naturalized while they live at the Wycliffe base in Waxhaw, North Carolina. Nard will be working on the DC-3 plane that is going to Africa.

Steve '76 and Marcia (Krick) x'78 Strauss with Cara and Mark flew to Ethiopia on April 3-5. Steve's assignment with SIM is called Second Administrative Assistant to the Director. He will be in charge of logistical work in Addis Ababa for rural missionaries, continue teaching Bible for pastors and evangelists, and preach some at the International Church. Steve and Marcia are expecting their third child sometime in October.

Larry Nicks, '77, a teacher at Heritage Christian High School in Indianapolis, Indiana, brought three student prospects to the campus recently along with his own 7-year-old son, Andrew.

Students leaving Rudd Chapel, April, 1986.

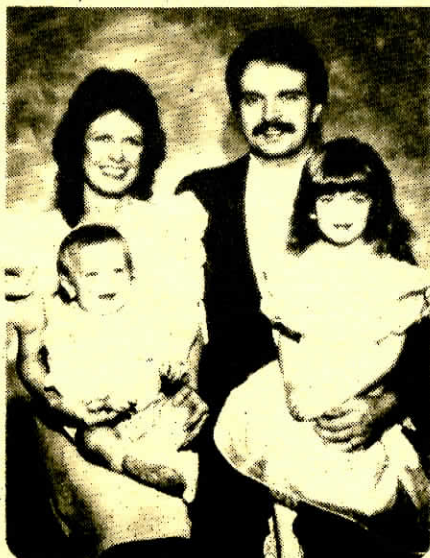

Jack Bell '78 of Racine, Wisconsin, has joined the Paperboard Converting Division of Alabama-based Gulf States Paper Corporation as a district sales manager. A native of Louisville, Kentucky, Jack attended Seneca High School there and received his B.S. degree from Bryan in business administration. He went to Gulf States from Champion International Corporation where he was a sales representative. Jack and his wife, the former Julianne Andersen, have two children - Jamie, 5, and Jodie, 2.

Jack Bell

Tom Hatten '78 and his wife, Carolyn, have been accepted to work with Worldteam in Haiti. Tom will serve as a physician's assistant to become part of the health-care team at the Hospital of Light; and Carolyn, as a teacher, will work in the school for missionary children as well as take care of their own young daughter, Katie. They hope to go to Haiti by September 1986, and in the meantime they are living in Corryton, Tennessee.

Joan Mezner '78 has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of history at Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts. She is currently completing work at the University of Texas for her doctor's degree.

George '79 and Jody-Lyn (Bowen) '79 Whipple live in Binghamton, New York, where they are residing in a log home which they are building. George is employed as a production manager at Frito-Lay Inc., and he and Jodi also have a small business called "Country Christmas" in which they make reproductions of folk art and country home accessories. Their children are Christi Nicole, 3, and Mark Bryan, 1.

Vernon (Steve) '79 and Doris Stevenson thank God for His work in the lives of many of their Alaskan friends and neighbors to whom they are ministering. Steve leans on God's wisdom as he deals with insurance, immigration, EPA, and state and federal laws in his role as treasurer and business manager for a Bible college, radio station, and hospital from their headquarters in Glennallen, Alaska. Prayer is requested for Doris who suffers with back ache from a slipped disk, and possible blockage of her carotid arteries.

David '80 and Jill (McCormick) '81 Simpson have been accepted as new candidates with New Tribes Mission to begin training in August. They have two children-Kara, 3, and Daniel, 1.

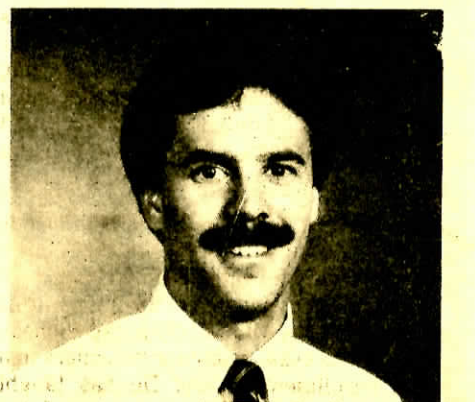

Susan (Smith) '80 and David Harris have responded to an opportunity to go to Ethiopia under Air Service International (ASI) for an initial one-year commitment. David, a trained pilot who has continued work at Thurston Aviation and with Jungle Aviation and Radio Service (JAARS) Aero Club, will be co-pilot on one of the four planes now cooperating with World Vision to help carry 1,000 metric tons of grain into the hardest hit famine areas of Ethiopia. They arrived in Addis Ababa on February 25 and Dave logged 24 hours of flight time in the Twin otter during the first two weeks. Susan has had some duties in the Air Service office. They find the Ethiopian people friendly and they are enjoying the International Church in Addis.

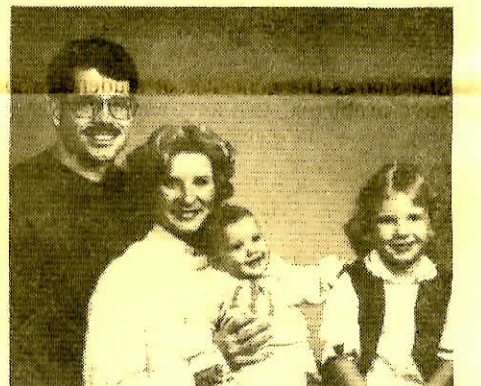

Mickey Merrick '80 anticipates completing work at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School this spring after six years. He rejoices in the Lord's blessings including a "wonderful wife, Vicky, a precious daughter, Becky, and a son to be born on March 31 by C-section." he is serving in a small Christian and Missionary Alliance Church during his internship and is looking forward to a full-time pastorate for a few years before heading to the mission field as the Lord leads.

James '81 and Karen (Crowder) '80 Ashley with their sons, Kent and Philip, have returned to Phoenix, Arizona, to make preparation for their field assignment with Wycliffe Bible Translators. They completed field training or "jungle camp" by spending the last month living with a Mexican family. They expect to be assigned to the Solomon Islands but may go elsewhere for training with another translation team for a year or two.

Mark Lloret '82 has been accepted by CAM International as a missionary candidate. He plans to go to Madrid, Spain, soon after his graduation from Dallas Theological Seminary this spring. He will be involved in church planting and youth ministries.

Marcus x '83 and Cindy (Kuti) x '83 Fowler and daughters Katie, 8 months, and Amber, 4 years, live in Manhattan, Kansas, where Mark is stationed with the military. He expects to be discharged this summer and plans to enter school in the fall to train for the medical field. Cindy completed a bachelor's degree in elementary education in 1985 and is doing some substitute teaching.

Daryl W. Wiggins x '83 is working as an occupational-recreational therapist at Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg, Virginia. He works with the chronic psychiatric adult units. He is also employed with the Colonial Services Board, serving as an Independent Living Skills Instructor, teaching discharged clients how to cope with living on their own in a Transitional Living Program.

Dan '84 and Peggy O'Berg with their three children live in Atlanta, where Dan is a staff-intern at the North Atlanta Baptist Church near the Georgia Tech campus. The family appreciates the use of the parsonage, about three miles from the church. Dan's task is to work on "church public relations" by visiting door-to-door, help with hospital visitation, be Sunday school director, and give the Sunday morning announcements. The former governor of Georgia, Lester Maddox, and his wife are regular attenders at this church. The O'Berg children are Naomi, 4, Nolan, 3, and David, a "special" baby just past one year who has had some surgery and will need more to correct a cleft lip and palate.

Murry Harman '85 is the supervisor of the maintenance department for the church and school of the Christian Life Fellowship in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Murry and his crew of five men care for

WITH THE LORD

Emma Rae (Bechtel) x '38 Ingram went to be with the Lord on September 14, 1984, after a brief illness with cancer. She had moved from Ocean City, New Jersey, to Lenoir, North Carolina, to be near her son, who along with his wife cared for "Corky" in the last months of her illness.

Mary Lou (Brown) Carl x '54 went to be with the Lord as a result of a heart attack on April 15 after two weeks in the hospital for treatment. She is survived by her husband, James Carl; a son, Edwin; and a daughter, Marylu Morgan Carl.

Jack Willets x '56 died in 1980 as reported by classmates Jim and Helen (Henning) Johnson, both x '56. Jack was married to Joyce and they had four children. He was superintendent of schools in or near Berea, Ohio, and camp director of Patmos, Kelly's Island, Ohio. His funeral was at Northfield (Ohio) Baptist Church. According to a friend of the Johnsons, Jack was a deeply spiritual man whose love for Christ showed in all areas of his life.

Steven Day x '68 went to be with the Lord on April 8 after a long bout with cancer. He was employed by the Tennessee Valley Authority. He is survived by his wife, Betty, and their three children, Chirs, 18; Scott, 17; and Tracy, 16.

PLEASE PRAY

We all have extraordinary needs at some time during our lives. These needs are much greater than the day to day concerns of living. They are the times of crisis that throw us to our knees before God for comfort, guidance and strength - not just quick and neat answers for ourselves or for our Christian brothers and sisters who may be suffering extreme distress.

This type of prayer concern has come to our attention in the alumni office frequently enough to be shared with alumni at large through this newspaper. The matters for prayer that we print here are of that once-in-a-lifetime nature that call us all together in a common bond of concern for one another that reaches beyond mere sympathy.

Wherever we are we can pray. And prayer is what is needed most in the situations we will publish in this column.

Paul Bishop '72, fell into a coma in September of 1984. After living in a fullcare facility for more than a year, he was brought nearer his home in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, early this year and is now having respiratory and circulatory problems. Paul and Janice (Decker) '74 have three children: Paul Jr., Justin, and Daniel.

Spud Willoughby '56, who is planning to be on campus for his class reunion this summer, reports continued problems with his eyesight (he's legally blind) and also requests prayer for his daughter-in-law, Joelen. She has had a mastectomy, but now has cancer in her chest and lung. She is taking chemotherapy.
